

Del Mastro Targets Online Anonymity

Friday October 26, 2012

Conservative MP Dean Del Mastro has raised the prospect of government regulation of online anonymity, arguing that Parliament should address the issue of forcing people to identify themselves before posting comments online.